A. Membership Classification

Active

The Active Members of this Association are companies or individuals who manufacture or market color additives.

Associate

The Associate Members of this Association are firms and corporations who use color additives in consumer products.

Affiliate

The Affiliate Members of this Association are, individuals and companies that while not actively manufacturing or selling color additives, are engaged in a business in or related to the color additive industry which the Board of Directors shall determine to be appropriate and of assistance in promoting and carrying out the purposes of the Association.

B. Annual Membership Fee

Affiliate Members

Affiliate members pay a flat fee of either $2,500 (individuals) or $5,000 (companies)

Associate Members

Associate members pay a flat fee of $14,310 per annum.

Active Members

Active members are asked to pay according to the sales level for their company, using the following definitions of color additive and sales:

Color Additives

Additives used for the addition or restoration of color as defined by Codex Alimentarius and included in the General Standard for Food Additives. If the color additive is used in a system (e.g., a coating system containing a lake), the value of the color additive in the system should be included.

Sales

The global sale of color additives as marketed by the corporate entity that is the member of IACM. This definition includes sales of color additives in food, drugs, and cosmetics. Use sales during your company's last fiscal year. Sales of titanium dioxide and caramel should be excluded from your calculation.

Once you have determined the amount of sales of color additives by your company, please check the appropriate line below. This information will be held confidential.
